EVACUATION OF BULGAR BASE BEGUN SAY GREEKS

Natives of Land Fighting There for First Time Since They Retreated Through Albania
and Are Eager for Revenge

FLORINA ONLY PLACE RESISTANCE IS STUBBORN

French and Russian Troops
Have Recaptured Virtually
All of Territory Conquered by the Invasion of Greece

LONDON, Sept. 19.—An Athens despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says information received there indicates the Bulgarians are beginning the evacuation of Monastir. It is said the Bulgarian archives are being hastily transported to Uszice.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Allied troops have crossed the Serbian frontier at two places and are advancing against the Bulgarian base at Monastir.

Serbian soldiers are fighting on their native soil for the first time since their retreat through Albania last winter. They have captured a series of heights from the Bulgars at Kamakchalan and have crossed the Serbo-Greek border north of Lake Orestro.

French and Russian troops are engaged with the Bulgars near Kenias on Serbian territory, virtually all the territory conquered by the Bulgarians right wing in the recent invasion of Greece has been recaptured by the Serbs, French and Russians.

The most savage fighting has been where Serbs and Bulgarians came in contact. Eager for revenge, the Serbs are flinging themselves at the Bulgarian lines with knives and bayonets. Desperate hand-to-hand fighting was reported northwest of Lake Orestro.

The Bulgars have made almost no strong stand since their first strong defensive positions were wrecked by French and Serbian artillery. They have moved steadily northward in retreat, excepting at Florina, where they offered stubborn resistance, but were not defeated by French and Russian forces.

General Cordonnier, French commander, established headquarters in Florina and ordered the pursuit of the Bulgars continued, said an Athens despatch today.

Fighting with the allies near Florina were a number of Greek volunteers, whose bravery was specially mentioned in despatches from Athens.

PARIS, Sept. 19.—A most violent battle is going on between the Italians and Bulgars east of Belas mountains in Macedonia, said an official statement issued here today. On the Velenitsa sector, Serbian artillery repulsed two Bulgarian counter-attacks.

Germany to Expel
Italians, Is Rumor

BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 19.—It is reported from the German frontier that the German government intends to expel 10,000 Italians in reprisal for the treatment of Germans in Italy. The Italians will be sent out of Germany on special trains by way of Switzerland. They include many women, children and old men of the poorer classes.

New War Loan for Russians Proposed

LONDON, Sept. 19.—A new war loan by the Russian government is proposed, according to a Reuter despatch from Petrograd. The plan, says the despatch, is to issue at the end of October a new internal 5% per cent, ten-year loan for war purposes to the amount of three billion rubles, the price of issue to be 95.

Boston Widens
American Lead

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—Boston increased its lead in the American League race by winning the first Detroit 3 to 1. Dauss' wildness in the first inning and timely hitting gave the visitors the victory. Detroit could not hit Mays with men on bases.

NO MORE STRAWS! WINTER! HATS AND SEASONS CHANGE

Heary! Heary! Heary!

The time is near to make an end. Soon the wintry winds will blow; soon the rain will be with us, weeping upon us in gusty sheets; soon will the dreary days be here.

There comes a day when sartorial splendor and vanity of headgear must be sacrificed to the cause of comfort and, incidentally, good taste. That day approaches.

Therefore, be it known to all men that the annual knell of the straw hat is soon to be sounded, to-wit, on Saturday, September 30. On that day it is my will that the hats of this and yesteryear be placed in their handboxes, to remain there until the spring hat cleaning shall be due in 1917.

Signed by me on this, the eighteenth day of the DEPARTING SEASON.

JOHN L. DAVIE, Mayor.

This decree Mayor Davie ament the dear chapeau. Again must mere man stumble into the nearest hat house and endure the pains of choosing that which best fits and becomes his head. If he is married, the process will be simplified for him, as friend wife may lend her valuable advice as to choice of headwear. Be he unmarried, and the chief indoor sports of all our mayors, who seemingly take a friend's delight in condemning to handboxes and moth balls the dearly beloved straws that our heads fit, and decreeing that we loosen up in anticipation of rains and sere weather.

So September 30 marks the doom of the 1916 straw. This is portentous, this date. It means that an-

the proposed lease settlement contemplates:

That the present holders of leases on the Brooklyn basin and along the East Oakland front of the Oakland estuary, granted under the act of 1911, shall surrender their present claims to the right of continued occupancy of the land.

That they shall receive in return a guarantee of the payment to them of the present value of their rights.

That this will be cash credit with the city, which they may use in rebidding to obtain a new lease, which will assure their rights in the property.

In case they do not wish to make what the city shall consider is adequate of the land, the present leaseholders may be dispossessed of their holdings until he has been paid this cash credit, representing the actual value of his rights to the premises.

That the cash value of the rights now possessed to the land by the present leaseholders shall be fixed by an appraisal board of three thoroughly qualified persons to hold meetings and hear testimony as to these values.

The board is to be appointed by the city council and approved by the present lessees.

CHARGED BY FIRM.

According to information from the law firm of Robinson, Gills & Sizer, with offices in the First National Bank building, Burnham, whom that firm had befriended, passed the fictitious check on that firm. Burnham had done business under the name of the Commercial Investment Company, and was widely known as a loan broker. The lawyers have offered a reward of $250 for his return. Oakland property belonging to Burnham has been attached and his office furnishings are in bond.

Miss Champion, who is 18 years of age, was the head of a mother, Mrs. R. F. Chapman, 40. How she died, September 11, when the daughter called her on the telephone. Miss Champion had not been living at the Howe street address. She was residing at a downtown residence with a personal friend, the name of whom Mrs. Champion refused to give. The mother said that her daughter had lived nearer the center of town because it was more convenient. Miss Champion was a stenographer doing substitute work and taking temporary positions. She had been employed by Burnham.

ACQUAINTED FOR SOME TIME.

Miss Champion and Burnham were known to have been friendly, but Mrs. Chapman was unable to say whether an engagement had resulted. She said that her daughter had known Burnham for some time, and acquaintance supposedly having been made through the girl's agent for the broker for the first time. According to relatives, she has done some typing for him since. Miss Champion was educated in Oakland schools, and was formerly student at the Technical High School. Later she attended business college.

Burnham was formerly an electrician, according to information from the firm of Robinson, Gills & Sizer, and served as an apprentice at the Mare Island naval yard in the trade. It was thought at the First National Bank offices that he first came to Oakland three years ago. He was in the employ of a department store for some time, and later went into the loan brokerage business with offices in the First National Bank building.

He had been married in July, 1912, and divorced proceedings against his wife, Mrs. Hattie R. Burnham of Napa, on April 20. He charged his wife with desertion in the divorce complaint. The case is pending. They have a child, Thelma Roselle Burnham. Final disposition of the forgery charge against Burnham was to have been made next Friday.

The war office announced this afternoon that Russian contingents defending the Champagne front, which directs operations on all fronts and at which the emperor and chief of staff spend most of their time, was in Belgium in the early weeks of the war and subsequently was moved to Northern France. In the spring of 1915 it was at town near Lille. According to unofficial reports it was transferred later to a small village further east.

Since the appointment of Field Marshal von Hindenburg as chief of staff he has been reported to have left in France and Belgium sufficient men to hold the line and devote his energies to the east, for he is credited with the belief that it is on this front that the first conclusive victory must be won.

Last week he returned from France to the eastern front. It was also reported that Emperor William, Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and representative of Austro-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey were at the eastern headquarters for a conference which was to decide the shaping of the campaign in the east.

The recent fighting on the front south of the Somme left hundreds of German bodies lying in the open between the opposing lines. The French drove into the German line the wedge that now divides the Germans around Peronne from the Bavarian divisions operating near Chaulnes. The object apparently was to extend the French gains in this region and improve the positions against the possibility of heavy German counter-attacks.

Recent Raids Have Made City
Across Bay "Spotless Town."

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—That gambling has completely disappeared in San Francisco and that not even a crap game can be found in the down town section, was the statement of Secretary Joseph Murphy this morning, as the result of recent raids in which hundreds of citizens were taken into custody. That the police, however, have not ceased their vigilance was indicated when eight men were sent out from City Hall to have their own office in plain clothes and in various kinds of disguises to comb the business section in search of possible violators of the gambling laws.

Secretary Murphy declared he believed everything was quiet and that nothing at all was "doing in the poolroom line." He said that the campaign would continue.

HUGHES OPENS HIS SECOND CAMPAIGN

Republican Nominee Tells His Peoria Audience Democrats
Make Extravagant Claims.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Declaring the "Reading combination" is the backbone of an alleged anthracite monopoly, that it controls about two-thirds of the anthracite deposits and that its supply will outlast many years that of any other producer, the government today filed in the United States Supreme Court its brief asking for complete injunction against the Reading Company, the Philadelphia & Reading Railways Company, the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company and others. Violation of the anti-trust laws is charged.

Nevertheless and that raids would be made if it was found advisable, Chief White said.

Save for several incorporated clubs, the existence of which is well known and which we cannot interfere with, except under certain conditions, everything is quiet and I think we have the situation well in hand.

Secretary Murphy declared he believed everything was quiet and that nothing at all was "doing in the poolroom line." He said that the campaign would continue.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 19.—Charles E. Hughes, opening his second presidential campaign trip in an address here today, characterized the Democratic party as "party of broken promises, which now presents extravagant claims."

The nominee took up point after point touched on in President Wilson's speech of acceptance and declared "the claims made therein were extravagant and that nothing of the sort had been accomplished."

"I believe," Hughes said, "that credit should be given where credit is due, but I think it important that no man should claim to have done what he has not done."

SUBMITS REPORT.

In the hands of this special committee has been placed the tentative plan for the adjustment of the city's waterfront troubles. A letter in which Mort outlines the city's legal contentions in the controversy is also in the hands of this committee, which will consider the matter and submit a report to the city officials.

Robinson is the author of the settlement plan, all of which the meeting agreed that it presented a fair method of settling existing controversies and left with the understanding that the committee headed by Black should take the preliminary steps toward the carrying out of the plan.

Mort told the meeting that there are three vitally important points which the city and the lessors should settle: it is upon these points, Mort said, that he bases the litigation in which the city is now engaged in the Superior Court.

THREE ESSENTIALS.

Mort's contentions are that the following features should be incorporated in the new waterfront leases:

Declaration of purpose for which the land is leased.

Provision that the land must be used for such purpose and for the manner and extent of such use.

Reservation to the city of the right to charge and collect dockage and tolls from all vessels landing at the leased lands.

Mort denied that the litigation had been started with a view of taking away the leased lands from the lessors and further denied that the purpose was the securing of higher rentals for his properties. The rentals, he said, are a matter of secondary consideration. The chief points he said are the three features which he believes should be incorporated in each lease.

It is generally understood that the holders of leases will agree to Mort's plan. At any rate, the intermediary committee will consider the matter in the interests of both the city and the lease holders.

LESSEES TO APPROVE.

Robinson suggested that one of the Superior Court judges be named as chairman of a proposed appraisal committee. He suggested the committee be named by the city council and that their appointment be ratified by the lease holders. There are to be three members of this board. The council is also to appoint a non-salaried harbor commission of five members.

It will be the appraisal board which will settle the "statutory rights" of each lessee. After all differences have been adjusted, the appraisal board will file its findings with the council, which will adopt it in the form of an ordinance. Robinson said:

The ordinance, when adopted, will constitute a substantially a statement of account between the city and lessors, where each lessor will have a right equal to the appraised value of his "statutory rights" and none will be permitted to take over his property without paying him that credit.

The ordinance, when adopted, will constitute a substantially a statement of account between the city and lessors, where each lessor will have a right equal to the appraised value of his "statutory rights" and none will be permitted to take over his property without paying him that credit.

STATE STOCK ON DISPLAY AT FAIR

Modesto, Merced and Paso Robles Meccas of Stockmen and Dairymen.

MODESTO, Sept. 19.—Gathered at Modesto, the center of the banner dairy county of California, boasting of 40,000 cows, at the Stanislaus live stock show and exposition which opened yesterday to continue through the week, is to be found the bluest of blueblood, Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein and Ayrshire cattle in the state. Contests are especially keen in the Jersey and Holstein classes, the prize for the two leaders in the State fair at Sacramento being among the contenders for honors. A five-day milk contest, open to all breeds, is being watched with special interest.

This is the first county-wide fair for Modesto, it being held at the base park under four gigantic tents and in two temporary buildings, which house comprehensive exhibits of agricultural and industrial products as well as an ornamental and manufacturing expositions. The stock exhibits include cattle, horses, hogs, sheep and poultry. A baby show is one of the popular attractions, and a daily rodeo in which 75 outlaws and trick horses are shown, will be a feature of the fair. Each day of the week will see parades and demonstrations by different communities.

MERED, Calif., Sept. 19.—Merced county fair opened this morning, and for the remainder of the week Native Son's park will be the scene of many features of interest, not the least of which will be a test of the agricultural and home cultural possibilities of the county through a big display of its products. Special tents and pavilions house the displays.

There is also a livestock show of no small importance, with some special entries of new breeds suitable to Merced.

A county fair parade tonight will usher in the carnival spirit with much and colorful entertainment, and the fair will provide amusement features. Political leaders will be heard in addresses at the fair ground on special days.

PASO ROBLES, Calif., Sept. 19.—With a good attendance and a wide scope of exhibits, the Upper Salinas Valley Fair opened today, and will continue in session until Saturday night. There will be a number of special days, with attendance from nearby cities, especially San Luis Obispo, which plans to make its presence here noticeable.

Smelting Is Topic of Mine Experts

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 19.—The first of the technical sessions of the convention of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, which is meeting in various places in Arizona this week, were held here today on the general subjects of "Smelting and Leaching."

A. G. McGregor of Warren, Ariz., in an address on the "New Copper Smelting Plants in Arizona," told the engineers that in Arizona during the past five years the copper industry has been in copper-smelting plant construction, the in the same length of time in the history of the world. Mr. McGregor said that in this period five new copper smelting plants have been constructed and put into operation. The monthly output from these plants, he said, averages from $7,000,000 to $8,000,000 pounds. He then described new problems which had been met successfully and new features in plant design and equipment which had been developed.

At the evening session on "Leaching," Frederick Lakin and Harold W. Aldrich described a 20,000-ton leaching plant at Anaconda, Mont.

The party left tonight for Bisbee where tomorrow's sessions will be held. Mining and geology will be the subject to be taken up in the technical discussions.

Ship's Surgeon Will Contest Divorce Suit

Dr. E. M. Clinton, former ship's surgeon on the steamer San Jose, will contest the divorce suit of Mrs. E. Pearle Clinton in the San Francisco courts, the action having been transferred out of Alameda county for trial. The suit was commenced here a year ago. Mrs. Clinton asked $75 a month alimony. It is said that Dr. Clinton has inherited $900,000 from a Philadelphia relative since the divorce was begun. The couple were married in December, 1911.

Rose Mein started suit for divorce against George Mein, complaining that he threatened to kill her and then commit suicide.

The following new suits were filed: Violent Hettren against Harry Hettren; Ida-B. Gentry against John W. Gentry.

Black London Fog Visits San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—A breath of "dread old London" was transferred to San Francisco today when the residents awoke to find themselves in the grip of a black fog almost impenetrable in its density. In the western addition the fog was so thick that the houses could not be seen across a street and even in the downtown section it was unusually heavy. No damage was reported, and there were no serious accidents.

Injunction Suit Is Started by Estate

Injunction proceedings have been commenced in the Superior Court by heirs of the Cohen estate against the administration of a recently enacted Alameda ordinance which established an assessment district to pay for the widening of English Avenue east of Park street. The plaintiffs, Emily Cohen et al claim that the cost of $23,000 assessed to their holdings is excessive.

Movie Actresses and Their Hair

Did it ever occur to you that every movie actress you have seen has lovely hair, while the most popular count their curls as their chief beauty? In fact (this is a secret) many are leading ladies just because of their attractive locks. Inquiry among them discloses the fact that they bring out all the natural beauty of their hair by careful shampooing, not with any soap or makeshift, but with a simple mixture which they make up for themselves by putting a teaspoonful of canthox (which they get from the druggist) in a cup of hot water and applying this instead of soap. After its use their hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. The hair is so fluffy that it looks much heavier than it is. Its texture and softness is delightful, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth. Advertisements

State Must Pay Fees to Sheriff

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—Deputy sheriffs and constables employed occasionally in the arrest and conviction of offenders in the state fish and game laws, are entitled to compensation for their services through the fish and game commission, according to an opinion given by Raymond Benjamin, chief deputy attorney general.

Sheriffs are entitled to collect fees for summoning jurors and subpoenaing witnesses in trials before a justice of the peace, fish and game law violations, the officers will be paid for their services in muking such arrests.

Speakers besides Martin and Maxwell included Ollie Snedigar, Carlos G. White and Captain J. Agnew. W. J. Maxwell gave a vote.

Martin has resigned to become physical director of the Oakland Technical High School. Maxwell has been connected for five years with the Omaha association.

The opinion was made at the request of the state board of control and is largely based on the recent decision of Superior Judge Edgar T. Zook of Marin county in a fish and game case.

Searchers Fail to Find Fireman's Body

VALLJO, Sept. 19.—Searchers are still searching the bay near Vallejo for an attempt to find the body of John Quinn, Oakland fireman, who was drowned when he jumped from a launch, after his hat, which had blown off, came loose this morning. Several boats put out to carry on the search. No trace of the body was found this morning.

Quinn, who was a trickman employed in Truck Company No. 1 of the Oakland fire department, had gone on a fishing trip yesterday with Lieutenant George Buck, C. Kipke, A. Ralig and Policeman Harry Evers. Quinn was 38 years of age and is survived by a widow.

The expenses of the journey will be paid by the reorganization committee, the purchaser of the road, whose representative, John F. Bowie, announced in Judge William C. Van Fleet's court, that $3000 would be given Krull for the expenses of the trip so that the affairs of the railroad might be settled. This amount is in addition to the $7000 fee which Krull received for auctioning the road.

Krull to Make Trip to Cancel Bonds

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—For the purpose of canceling bonds of the Western Pacific railroad held by foreign investors, Francis Krull, special master in chancery, will leave here October 16 for Europe, accompanied by his wife. The expenses of the journey will be paid by the reorganization committee, the purchaser of the road, whose representative, John F. Bowie, announced in Judge William C. Van Fleet's court, that $3000 would be given Krull for the expenses of the trip so that the affairs of the railroad might be settled. This amount is in addition to the $7000 fee which Krull received for auctioning the road.

Krull's visit to Europe, it is said, will save the expense and the high rate of insurance charged for sending the bonds to the United States during war time.

He will stop in Chicago to cancel some bonds there and make payments to bondholders. Two weeks will be spent in New York and four days in Boston for the same purpose. From there he will sail to Liverpool and visit London and Amsterdam. He will return to America about the first of the year.

THE WORLD'S CHAMPION CAR

Reaches New York From San Francisco in 5 Days, 3 Hours, 31 Minutes

BREAKING ALL TRANSCONTINENTAL RECORDS BY 14 HOURS AND 59 MINUTES

This car, one of the regular stock 7-passenger touring cars (not even stripped), carrying over 1100 lbs. of excess baggage, gasoline and oil, checked out from Third and Market Sts. last Wednesday morning at 12:01, reaching New York yesterday (Monday) morning in just 5 days 3 hours and 31 minutes.

The distance covered was 3476 miles. The average for the elapsed time was 27.14 miles an hour.

Details of this very remarkable and fast journey across the United States have not yet reached San Francisco. Western Union reports received from day to day from drivers A. H. Patterson, Ralph Mulford and Charles H. Vincent give the car's passing of principal points en route as follows:

Carson City, 7:23 Wednesday A. M.; Elko, 8:40 Wednesday P. M.; Ogden, 9:00 Thursday A. M.; Cheyenne, 7:52 Friday A. M.; Omaha, 2:05 Saturday A. M.; Davenport, 3:00 Saturday P. M.; South Bend, 12:07 Sunday A. M.; Buffalo, 2:35 Sunday P. M.

This does not come as a surprise— It was expected of the Super-Six

In all sorts of performances, the Super-Six has made new stock car records. In speed—in hill climbing—in quick acceleration—in a 24-hour endurance run—no stock car ever matched it. The records made placed the car, without question, in a class of recognized superiority.

The Super-Six will outperform any other car that's built. It has done what no other car has done in speed, flexibility and endurance tests.

You may not want such speed. The many records to the car's credit have been made to prove the motor's supremacy, also to prove its endurance.

OAKLAND IS SECOND IN FEW DEATHS

City's Rate Beaten in United States Only by St. Paul; Mortality Lists Less, Despite the Population's Increases

Census Bulletin Gives Data on Health Conditions; the State Rate Also Low on Books of the Federal Investigators

That the low death rate in Oakland is surpassed by only one city of 100,000 or over population in the United States is shown in the bulletin just issued by Director S. L. Rogers of the Bureau of the Census. For the year 1915 the death rate for each 1000 citizens in Oakland was 11.4, and St. Paul with a rate of 10.7 is the only principal city that rates lower. Milwaukee's rate is the same, 11.4, while Minneapolis has a rate of 11.5. Other cities run from 12 to 18 per cent.

With a population of 190,303 in 1915, Oakland registered 2166 deaths during the year. Moreover, the rate has been steadily decreasing. In 1914 it was 11.6 and in 1913 it stood at 12.5. From 1901 to 1905 the average rate was 13.3 and from 1905 to 1910 the average was 15.4. The present rate, as compared with the 1901-1905 average, shows a decrease of 14.3 per cent.

San Francisco with a population of 450,000 in 1915 had a death rate of 15.6 with 7260 deaths in the year. The rate there has remained about the same for three years, having been 15.5 in 1914 and 15.9 in 1913. From 1901 to 1905 the San Francisco rate averaged 20.3 and from 1906 to 1910 the average was 16.1. The present rate shows a decrease of 21.7 per cent from the 1901-1905 average.

RATE DECREASES.

California, with a population in 1915 of 2,818,275, registered 39,038 deaths. The death rate was 13.7, for 1914 13.6 and for 1913 14.5. From 1906 to 1910 the average rate was 13.9.

The rate for the entire registration area of the United States—covering a population of 67,336,992—was 13.5 in 1915, the lowest on record. The registration area at present does not include all the States in the Union, and the figures are based on 6.1 per cent of the total estimated population of the country.

There is a widespread and increasing interest throughout the country in vital statistics. The States of North and South Carolina, which recently enacted the "model law" for the registration of births and deaths, were admitted to the registration area for 1916, increasing the estimated population of the area to 70.2 per cent of the total for the United States.

The 1915 death rate—13.5 for each 1000—is the lowest ever recorded, the previous year having shown a rate of 13.6. It is markedly lower than the average rate for the five-year period 1901 to 1905, which was 16.2. The decrease thus amounts to 16.7 per cent, or almost exactly one-sixth, in little more than a decade.

MUST CONSIDER CHANGES.

The complete report for 1915, to be issued soon, will state that changes in the age and sex constitution of the population must be considered before the exact nature and extent of the lower general mortality can be understood. It is considered, however, that the great progress made in recent years in medicine and sanitation, together with the widespread awakening of public sentiment in the support of the health authorities, has resulted in the annual saving of thousands of lives that would have been lost under the conditions prevailing only a few years ago.

It is in the cities that the greatest decrease in mortality is shown, for the centers of population are more easily affected by sanitary legislation. The following municipalities show for 1915 decreased 20 per cent or more, as compared with the 1901-1905 period: Newark, N. J., 29.8 per cent; Atlanta, 28.4 per cent; New York, 26.8 per cent; Los Angeles, 25 per cent; Jersey City, 24.9 per cent; Pittsburgh, 23.9 per cent; St. Louis, 22.9 per cent.

JOHNSON IS RULER AT CONVENTIONS

Benson Nominated Chairman of Republican Group in Session at State Capital; All the Delegations Support Hughes

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan threw a monkey wrench into the Republican convention this afternoon by refusing to issue Republican credentials to candidates who won nominations on more than one ticket at the August primary.

A lively tilt immediately resulted. Senator William Kehoe of Eureka moved the adoption of a motion to seat all Republican delegates on the face of the primary returns.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—When the Republican state convention was called to order in the assembly chamber of the state capitol at 2 o'clock this afternoon Governor Huron R. Johnson, Republican nominating for United States senator, had gained complete control of the body. Moreover, it was a Charles E. Hughes' convention, most of the delegates wearing Hughes buttons in their lapels.

Immediately after the convention was called to order, State Senator A. H. Breed of Alameda county proposed the name of Frank G. Benson, state senator from San Jose, county, as chairman of the convention.

Acting for the minority, the anti-Johnson element, A. B. Johnson, assemblyman from Pasadena, proposed the name of James A. Petty, assemblyman from Mendocino county.

Benson was elected chairman of the convention by a better than two to one vote.

John W. Stetson of Alameda and Percy V. Long of San Francisco, two staunch Johnson men, will control the state convention of Progressives. Long said:

The Progressive party is to continue in California.

A new state central committee will be named. It is probable that the convention will follow the action of the national Progressive committee and endorse Hughes for President. I do not know just what the plans are, as there are so few delegates yet in the city.

A dark horse from Southern California is to be chosen chairman of the Democratic state convention, according to rumors. The delegates from the south arrived at noon.

CARD FIGHT MAY COST THREE LIVES

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—The list of dead from the latest outbreak in the Latin quarter may today total three, for O. H. Ratto, advertising manager of the Italian Daily News, and Joseph Diaz are both near death in local hospitals. The trouble, which occurred last night, was the result of a dispute over gambling and the ensuing pistol battle resulted in the killing of Plaza Ducre and the wounding of Policeman Henry Smith, as well as Ratto and Diaz.

Ratto, who is at the St. Francis Hospital, with a bullet wound through his abdomen, is in such a serious state that the attending physicians are debating whether or not they can operate. It is feared that he cannot recover. Jose Diaz, who is said to be a distant relative of the former president of Mexico, Porfirio Diaz, is at the Central Hospital with a wound similar to that of Ratto. He, however, is in better condition and it is believed he has a chance of recovery.

Patrolman Henry Smith, while not dangerously wounded, had his knee splinted.

A quarrel between Diaz, Jose Rodriguez and Alfonso Lopez was the cause of the trouble. Ducre, acting as a referee, was shot during the argument in an Italian rooming house. Immediately afterwards the three Mexicans ran into the street, shooting at any seeking to stop them. A squad of police appeared and revolver battle with the Mexicans followed, in which Smith and Diaz were shot. Both are in the hospital, and the wounding of Policeman Henry Smith, as well as Ratto and Diaz.

Rodriguez alleged today that Lopez had robbed him, after luring him to the rooming house. He admitted they were playing a game.

Mayor Davie Calls in Straw Lids

There comes a day when sartorial splendor and vanity of headgear must be sacrificed to the cause of comfort, and, incidentally, good taste. That day approaches.

Therefore, be it known to all men that the annual knell of the straw hat is soon to be sounded, to-wit, on Saturday, September 30.

Mother Abandons Two Small Girls

Children Taken to Hospital; Search Made

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Evidently abandoned by their mother, who, tired of a struggle alone, had deserted them perhaps to join their father unhampered and unattached, two little girls, one a babe, were turned over to the authorities this morning. They are Margaret E. and Elizabeth Moorey, aged seven and two years. Mrs. Anna King of 4228 Twenty-first street, at which home the Mooreys have lodged recently, after caring for the youngsters for four days in the hope that the mother might return, sent them to the San Francisco Hospital to-day.

The exercise is slated for the City Hall roof. Regarding the sugar, not as a reward of virtue, but as necessary in the tea and coffee of the imprisoned women in order to "overcome the craving for stimulants." Mrs. George E. Perkins and other representatives of the Center's jail committee interviewed Commissioner F. J. Jackson last week on the subject. They also presented the other propositions drawn up by the committee for his consideration.

This morning letters from the heads of different city departments consulted by Dr. Jackson—all of them favorable to the Center's plea—were read to the directors of the Center at a meeting held at Hotel Oakland, by the committee, with much enthusiasm. One was from Health Officer Kirby B. Smith stating that he "heartily" agreed that the "request for sugar is reasonable one."

Smith also wrote to the City Hall, a psychological clinic where Mrs. King may examine the mentality of the jailed women and compile statistics on the subject. He added that this was, to his mind, a very important and necessary step in the right direction.

Another epistle was from George E. Dillie, city superintendent of recreation, who stated that the recreation department was able to "gladly" assign a supervisor for the exercise of women prisoners on the roof of the City Hall.

Plans for this activity, he explained, should be worked out in conference with the chief of police or other officers in charge of the future gymnasts.

No letters dealing with the sewing machine problem were produced, but the jail committee urgently wished to furnish so that women in jail may use their leisure to make themselves plain wash costumes and nightgowns in order to keep presentable in their present domicile.

GELDER IN MEXICO.

Leo Gelder, who formerly conducted a plumbing business in Oakland, and who mysteriously disappeared September 6, leaving his wife and three children at their home, 1127 Fifty-third street, without information as to his whereabouts, has written to his brother George Gelder, assemblyman of San Francisco, stating that he is at work as chief mechanic in a mining town 100 miles from Mexico City. He did not say when he expects to return to Oakland.

He will not vote for President Wilson because he has opposed federal woman suffrage, is the declaration which hundreds of Democratic women in the west are making, according to reports from various Woman's Party organizers. From California, Arizona, Nevada, Wyoming and other states comes the same report.

"Many of our Colorado women are expressing the most intense displeasure with what they call the insult offered the women by President Wilson in his Atlantic City speech," writes Mrs. Caroline E. Spencer, secretary of the Woman's Party in Colorado. They resent his affirming that he had come to "help the cause of suffrage." Mrs. Spencer reports, "when, as a matter of fact, he has been using all his power to fight the federal amendment."

The importance of the woman's vote in some of the western states is illustrated by the situation in Arizona. In 1912 in that state a change of 150 votes would have given Wilson more than the combined vote of Taft and Roosevelt. At that time the women of Arizona could not vote. Undoubtedly the great majority of the women of Arizona will stand by the man for president who stands by the women of the country. President Wilson has not said when he expects to return to Oakland.

GIVE 'EM SUGAR, PLEA OF WOMEN

Inmates of Jail May Exercise on Roof, Too, If It's Permitted.

Sugar is demanded by the "jail" committee of the Oakland Center for the women of the city prison. A sewing machine, daily exercise and a psychological clinic are also requested for the prisoners.

The exercise is slated for the City Hall roof.

Regarding the sugar, not as a reward of virtue, but as necessary in the tea and coffee of the imprisoned women in order to "overcome the craving for stimulants." Mrs. George E. Perkins and other representatives of the Center's jail committee interviewed Commissioner F. J. Jackson last week on the subject.

They also presented the other propositions drawn up by the committee for his consideration.

This morning letters from the heads of different city departments consulted by Dr. Jackson—all of them favorable to the Center's plea—were read to the directors of the Center at a meeting held at Hotel Oakland, by the committee, with much enthusiasm.

SACRAMENTO HAS MARTIAL LAW ZONE

Negroes Attack Members of the Fifth Infantry and 400 Soldiers Start Out for Revenge, But Clash Is Prevented

Saloons in District Are Closed and Machine Gun Squads Prepared to Prevent Any Resumption of the Trouble

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—The negro section of Sacramento virtually is under martial law today following an attempt last night by members of the Fifth California infantry to avenge the beating administered three of their members at the hands of a gang of negroes Sunday night. A provost guard is maintained and no soldiers allowed to enter the "colored zone."

The timely arrival of the police and a company of the Fifth prevented a clash late last night. Four hundred soldiers were congregated near the negro section and were about to rush three negro saloons when the police and the provost guard interfered.

Despite the failing of their attempt, last night the negroes know they will "get" the negroes and a clash is imminent. Three members of the Fifth were severely beaten up by negroes Sunday night when they refused to cease dancing with white girls in a dance resort. The soldiers say they were ridiculed and sneered at by the negroes until they "just had to scrap."

The negro saloons are closed and as special precaution to quell a riot a couple of machine guns are conveniently near.

Maid's Problems Heavy; Suicide Discharged Girl Takes Own Life

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Wielding a heavy ax, H. C. Veniano desperately chopped down an open door this morning in an effort to save the life of Paulina Gravello, 19-year-old girl who in a melancholy mood had turned on the gas. When entrance was gained the young woman was found in a sinking condition and died before the Park Emergency Hospital was reached. Despair in finding herself out of a situation in a comparatively strange land and ignorant of the language of the people the girl had sought death as the only surecase for her troubles.

She had been employed as a maid by Miss N. Vensano, a school teacher of 709-A Clayton street. Last night Miss Vensano told her that she had not given satisfaction and gave her two weeks notice. The girl took the announcement stoically, left the house and turned at 1 a.m.

At 7:30 the odor of gas was detected and Miss Vensano summoned her brother residing next door to aid her in forcing the door. Miss Gravello left two notes, one addressed to a brother and sister and another to Miss Vensano. Both were in Italian. The message to the teacher was partially deciphered and reads:

I am doing this through misfortune. There is nothing else to do. Please excuse me for what I am doing. I can't do less. I am fatigued. I am sorry that I never told my intentions. Please notify my brother who works near the dentist.

PLAN FOR FIESTA.

The fiesta is to be given under the auspices of California Council, No. 880, Knights of Columbus, and will be in the garden of their fraternal home. The proceeds are to be devoted to the erection of an annex to the building.

MAY AVERT STRIKE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Mayor Mitchel called into conference with him today representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association to try to avert the threatened strike of 700,000 workers in this city in sympathy with the street railway employees. The mayor has received warning from the labor leaders that unless he and the committee of business men settle the war strike will be by Thursday night a general walkout of virtually all the labor unions in this city and vicinity will be ordered.

Representatives of about thirty unions united in calling upon their organizations to strike if settlement with the transit companies was not forthcoming. The unions asked to take this action included 200,000 members of the United Hebrew Trades, 35,000 stationary engineers and firemen, 28,000 longshoremen, 20,000 sub-officers, 12,000 master marines and pilots, 20,000 teamsters, 3,000 tidewater boatmen and 15,000 machinists.

Members of the United Hebrew Trades, the longshoremen and boatmen already have voted to strike, it is announced.

No plan has been proposed for the consideration of the mayor and the business men. President Shantz of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company said it seemed absurd to negotiate with them that the company would have no further dealings with the carmen's union, but was willing to consider any proposition from the mayor.

The street railway strike was extended to Queens county early today when many conductors and motormen of the New York and Queens County Railroad went out in protest against the use of their members to operate cars and boats in the strike in Manhattan. Union leaders said that the street car lines in Queens were tied up.

Upwards of forty persons were injured, most of them girls en route to work, in four accidents today growing out of the street car strike. A jitney automobile truck crowded with girls, swerved sharply approaching the Williamsburg bridge and pitched its two-score passengers into the roadway. Some of them fell beneath the automobile or the hoofs of horses and received serious injuries.

All Have Pockets Women Adopt Fashion

And the Old Shawl, Too, Is "New Frill"

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The dozen or more pockets in "his suit" are no longer to retain their prestige. The well-dressed woman of 1917 will have pockets in her costume—pockets to the right, pockets to the left, pockets to the front and pockets behind. Such is the decree of the Fashion Art League of America, which will hold its semi-annual session at the Congress Hotel next week.

Plain, patched, shirred, hip, gun and powder pockets will find their place in milady's suit next season.

The old Paisley shawl of grandmothers day is coming back into its own along with a lot of Spanish frills and furbelows. This is the latest edict of fashion, which will be exemplified in Chicago this week, when Modistes and designers from the leading cities of the country will gather to make known the modes for fall and winter.

One hundred and two women, selected by a magazine as the best dressed women in America, have been invited to criticize the new fashions submitted by the modistes.

Filing of Oil Suit Awaits Official Word

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Filing of a government suit for 2700 acres of oil lands valued at $5,000,000 today awaited only the decision of the Interior and Justice departments in Washington.

An announcement that the suit will be filed in the federal court at Los Angeles was made here by E. J. Justice, a special agent of the Department of Justice. The Honolulu Consolidated Company will be the defendant.

The government contends that the land, located in Kern county, is part of the naval reserve and the suit will be based on the order issued by President Taft in 1908 withdrawing certain oil lands from entry.

Mayor and Board Are Cited Before Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Mayor Ralph Jr. and the eighteen members of the Board of Supervisors have been cited by Superior Judge J. M. Seawell to appear in court Friday after next, when they are not guilty of contempt of court.

The executive and legislative departments of the city and county government are charged with ignorance of a statute passed by Judge Seawell in August of this year, ordering them to allow approximately $20,000 to pay eleven judgments against the city for taxes unlawfully levied and collected in 1908.

Sheriff and Posse to Seek Train Bandits

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 19.—Sheriff Jack Keating of Marin county and his posse have been asked to aid Sheriff Jack Keating of Marin county in running to earth the perpetrators of what was evidently a deliberate attempt to wreck a train on the Northwestern Pacific rail road at an early hour this morning. A huge pile of ties, bolts and rails had been securely placed across the rail between Novato and Ignacio. A section crew discovered the obstructions and removed them in time to prevent serious wreck.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate in the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do. —Advertisement.

Uncle of Local Men Is Honored by King

HAYWARD, Sept. 19.—M. Dimitracopoulos, the Greek statesman, who was asked by the King of Greece to form a new cabinet but refused, is an uncle of the Dimitracopoulos brothers of this city. Soon after his return to the country from Athens the brothers have given him the name of Milton, finding that the enunciation of their own was too much for a tongue-let for Americans. They are engaged in business here and are keenly interested in the political situation in Greece.

Edison's Uncle Dies in East Orange Home

Mr. Edison, who was 90 years old, formerly was an iron manufacturer in Lorain, O. He retired from business five years ago and came to East Orange. Besides his daughter, he is survived by a son, Richard T. Edison.

MISS FLORENCE MATTHEWS, whose engagement to Sydney Ernest Roberts is announced. She is the beautiful daughter of Mrs. F. J. Henkenius and for four years has been conspicuous as an operatic singer.

During her visit as a vaudeville star to the various theaters in the country, the Jersey Lily—Lady of the Lake or the Jersey Lark—she chose is inspiring lively social activity in several different circles.

Her theatrical history and her career as a beauty has been reflected by all the dailies and weeklies until no words could add to her social and personal lustre. Everyone knows that the lovely actress has been made much of by all manner of aristocrats, and that she is still immensely good looking, that she has been much entertained on her visit to this border of the Pacific.

It is well known that she was a most stunning figure last Sunday evening at a dinner and reception given in her honor at the Frank J. Edoff home in Sierra Avenue, when she appeared in a statuette, which was decorated with many lace, glittering here and there with more of gold decoration. At this dinner there were ten guests, two scores others dropping in, afterwards informally to meet Lady of the Lake.

Last evening a large dinner at Piedmont Park, followed by a theater and dinner with the actress as the guest of honor, was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus F. Farnham, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Murdock, Mr. and Mrs. William Hale, Mr. and Mrs. William Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Gavina, Miss Aileen Edoff, Frank J. Edoff, and many others. Several other affairs have been arranged to make the rest of the week.

Miss Aileen Edoff leaves on the first of October or thereabouts to be gone for four or five months in the East, where she will tour the larger cities with her sister.

Next Saturday and Sunday will see the finals fought out in the tennis courts of the Claremont Country Club—and considerable activity to be observed on the terraces afterwards. Meanwhile club members are anticipating the series of dances to be given at the clubhouse this autumn and winter. The first Saturday evening of each month, the opening party of the season is set for Saturday evening, October 7.

Meanwhile a number of the golfers of the club are preparing to defend the Honors of the east bay down at Del Monte next week. Among those who expect to be on hand to qualify next Tuesday are Miss Josephine Johnson and Mrs. H. H. Sherman, Miss Berkeley, who are shining lights of Claremont.

Both sides of the bay will be represented tomorrow evening at the wedding of Miss Florence Brown, daughter of Mrs. Albert Brown, and Louis Mooser Jr., at St. Mary's Cathedral. This will be a large affair, though not extremely elaborate.

Mrs. Hart Weaver, who is a favorite on this side of the bay, and who is a sister of the bridegroom, will be the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Eileen Bishop of Alameda and Miss Helen Weaver, both to be gowned in pink net and silver lace. Cooper Jacob, Miss Hart Weaver, Blanche Tucker and Lloyd Loma will be the usherettes.

Afterward there will be a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mooser in Scott street, with seventy-five or more in attendance.

In honor of Miss Alice Freuler, whose wedding will be an event of next week, Mrs. Donald Ross (Elizabeth Ferrier) was a luncheon hostess to a dozen of the Berkeley younger set today. Those who shared her luncheon included Miss Alice Freuler, Miss Oliver, Miss Clara Freuler, Mrs. Amel Cypher, Mrs. James Hamilton Todd, Miss Phyllis Woodward, Miss Delphine Ferrier, Mrs. Orville Johnson, Mrs. Orville Johnson and Miss Evelyn Hornbeck of Stockton.

After Miss Fanny Laird's bridge tomorrow Miss Alice Freuler is accepting no more social attentions until after her marriage. On Thursday she leaves for Cupido to spend the week-end with relatives, planning to return to her home in Berkeley on Monday.

As usual the Mount Diablo Park and Country Club was a Mecca for jolly motoring parties last Saturday, many remaining for the afternoon and through the week end. The easy, smart set representation included: Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Deichmann, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Broekhoff, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lundborg, Mr. and Mrs. Al Coogan, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reed, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Blake, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Gaskill, Mrs. Robert E. Wells, Mrs. H. T. Spencer, Mrs. Charles T. Ward and Mrs. Dorothy Foster, Mrs. Jos. Ghirardelli, Alexander C. Campbell, Mrs. Richard Phelps, Mrs. Osvald Wells, Mrs. H. B. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. William Harold Oliver, and her daughter Carolyn, are spending a month at the Mount Diablo Park Club.

A number of young people yet in school were entertained last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Gaskill, celebrating Miss Carmen Moore's birthday.

Among the guests bidden to this merry affair were: Miss Leslie Warner, Miss Dorothy White, Miss Alice Hottle, Miss Louise Masters, Miss Flora Canfield, Miss Margaret Weeks, Miss Barbara Bremer, Miss Davida Starrett, Miss Margaret Gibson, Miss Margaret Musser, Miss Gladys Gaskill, Miss Scholastica Hensel, Leon Barker, William Perry, Alder Musser, Grafton Musser, William Blackburn, Carrie Gibson and Carl Bachelet.

The engagement of Miss Martha E. Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wright of this city, to Walter Randall Catching, an electrical engineer of Los Angeles, was announced yesterday at an elaborate luncheon given at the home of Miss Wright's sister, Mrs. E. J. Porter Peck in Josephine. The future bride is gifted as a sister and is known to a few people. She is the daughter of Mrs. F. L. Wall, also has many friends around the bay, having graduated from the University of California with the class of 1914.

Those in the announcement luncheon were the members of a cotillion including Mrs. Harold Goffette, Miss Phyllis Peck in Josephine, and Miss Fay Snyder, together with a group of the buds in school, disposed of home-made bonbons during the afternoon.

Next Wednesday the future bride's mother, Irving Griffiths, is to claim Miss Helen Robrecht for his bride.

There are to be a number of lecture courses, of readings, and other illuminat-

One of the interesting functions on the social calendar for next week is a large musical on Friday evening, September 29, at which Mrs. and Mrs. Thomas H. Williams will send out a note. The soiree will be given at the Williams home in Berkeley with the assistance of a number of gifted musicians.

Among the lectures at Berkeley society women are intending to relieve the tedium of the autumn with a series that Mrs. Elizabeth Gerberding is to give on Tuesday evenings, beginning a week from today, in the new Grand Auditorium, 10:30 o'clock, being the hour.

Mrs. Gerberding is one of the best known women working for suffrage and in the various organizations around the bay. This group of talks on "The Suffrage" is to be delivered on Thursday evening also at the Sorosis Clubrooms in San Francisco, and is to be modeled on those given in New York, Washington, Philadelphia and Baltimore by Miss Janet Richards.

Mrs. W. C. Evans and Miss Doris Evans have returned from Santa Cruz, where they spent a week-end, enjoying the diversions there, with a group of friends. Miss Evans' wedding to Charles Coffin of San Francisco will be an event of interest next month.

By means of the card party last week at Hotel Oakland, the group of society matrons who have set their hearts on a new parish house for St. Paul's brought up the sum they have raised, by means of various benefits, to a several thousand dollars total.

Plans for the parish house—which is also to serve as a Sunday school building—were some time ago completed, and ground will be broken either next week

Clip-Dodge Story

"Why aren't you coming along with me?" he said. "One sweep of his nose the sawfish sawed it off." "Next," he cried, and he sawed again. So he went on until the big pile of wood was cut up.

"Thank you very kindly," said Uncle Wiggly. "But how are you going to get back in the ocean?"

"You can tell some of my friends the flying fishes to come and fly with me back to sea! It would be fine," said the sawfish.

"I'll do it," promised the bunny, and he did. Soon two strong young fishes and, taking up with the sawfish, in they flew with him back to the sea.

"I was," answered the bunny chirp, "but I forgot all about it. But you go and have a nice swim in the ocean. And don't let any crab bite you! My! But you look nice!"

"All right say that. For Nurse Jane had on her new bathing suit. One stocking was green, the other a sort of shade of lead pencil. The upper part of her suit, out of which stuck her head, was made of trunks, and the lower part was stockings, with the sides and other part was made half of rose and half new mown hay. And on her head was a sunflower bonnet, with ice cream and lollipop trimmings."

"I'm glad you like my bathing suit," said the muskrat lady modestly.

"Don't get too wet!" laughed Uncle Wiggly, as she went down off the porch to call for the duck lady. "If you did, and one of those coils started to run, you'd have to get a jitney bus to catch them."

"I'll be careful," promised Nurse Jane. "Are you going to do anything while I'm gone?"

ASKS FOR FIREWOOD.

"I'll do anything you want me to," said Uncle Wiggly, politely and kindly. "Then you might cut a little wood for the fire," said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I'll bring you some supper after I get back from the beach."

"It shall be done," promised the bunny uncle, trying to make a bow as he got out of the hammock. But this was hard to do, as he had not yet learned to walk, and, as luck would have it, some of the hammock's coils got tangled under him at the same time, and he was in trouble.

"Don't do that again," called Nurse Jane, as she went off with her bathing suit.

"Well, as long as I'm up I may as well stay up and begin to cut that wood," thought Uncle Wiggly, as he looked at the hammock, stretching his ears and trying to do what he had not "go here goes!"

Now chopping wood at a seaside-sea-shore bungalow is not as easy as it sounds. In the first place, the axe is not well balanced, the wood is very hard, or else there isn't any axe or "wedge" in which case you can't do anything, of course.

"Don't be afraid," replied Joe Harris, "I'll be there to help you." "Ten minutes?" asked Myron Harris. "It's ten miles to the city limits. Have you any money?"

"No, boss," said Joe Harris, "but Ah is a good ambulator. It'll take me 'bout two hours."

"Well, here's a quarter," said Myron Harris. "Ride out of town." Joe Harris was released, the money in his hand.

"Put ten minutes," eagerly replied Joe Harris.

"Ten minutes?" asked Myron Harris. "It's ten miles to the city limits. Have you any money?"

"No, boss," said Joe Harris, "but Ah is a good ambulator. It'll take me 'bout two hours."

"Well, here's a quarter," said Myron Harris. "Ride out of town." Joe Harris was released, the money in his hand.

"Why did you give him that money?" Harris was asked.

"Well, he's a namesake, isn't he?" he asked in answer. "Believe me, there's a deal of sentiment in me. A Harris is a Harris, no matter what his color may be."

SAVES LIFE OF FISH.

"Water! Water! Quick, put me in water!" cried the fish. "I wonder who that can be?" thought the bunny uncle. "It must be some one who wants a bath in a hurry. I'll turn the hose on them."

He looked in the garden and there he saw a big fish with a very long, sharp nose.

"What is the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggly, as the fish flopped about in the grass.

"I want to be put back in the water," gasped the fish. "I'm all right, I caught me up off the ocean and started to fly away with me to his nest. But I wiggled so that I wiggled myself loose of its claws and dropped down here. Now that I've done that, I must swoop down to get me. But unless I can put back in the water soon I shall die."

"Oh, that would be too bad," said kind Uncle Wiggly. "Wait a minute." He bent over and took full of water from the hose, and the fish, which was too big for the bunny to lift, flopped himself into the water.

"Ah, that is fine!" he cried, "you have seen my face. I would like to do you a favor. Is there anything you can't do for yourself?"

"Well, yes," said Uncle Wiggly slowly, as he scratched his pink nose. "There is, but you can't do it for me. I'm afraid, to water down the fish for Nurse Jane, but the axe is too dull and the wood too hard. You will have to do me another favor. I guess, not that I want you to do one, for it was a pleasure to save you."

FISH SAWNS WOOD.

"Hah! The favor I am going to do you is saw that wood for you!" cried the flipping creature.

He sawed at the wood, and with the saw, which had sharp teeth on it, and is very sharp, I can easily saw the wood. You just hold the sticks here at the side of the tub and I'll saw them for you. You'd get on and it's all I can't live without water. Come on, how to saw the wood."

So Uncle Wiggly held up a stick. With

BAKERS TO FACE PROBE BY WOMEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Housewives from every corner of the United States have been asked to meet in New York next Monday at the session of the national bread committee of the National Housewives' League in an effort to determine what steps shall be taken to meet the increased cost of bread.

Grocery houses over New York bakers today for, despite the fact that they have shown figures intended to prove that an increase in the price of their product is necessary to their existence they face investigation by the federal trade commission and ordinance enactment by the board of aldermen prescribing the sale of bread by weight rather than by the loaf.

"The situation looks very critical both for the producer and the consumer," said Mrs. Julian Heath, president of the Housewives' League today.

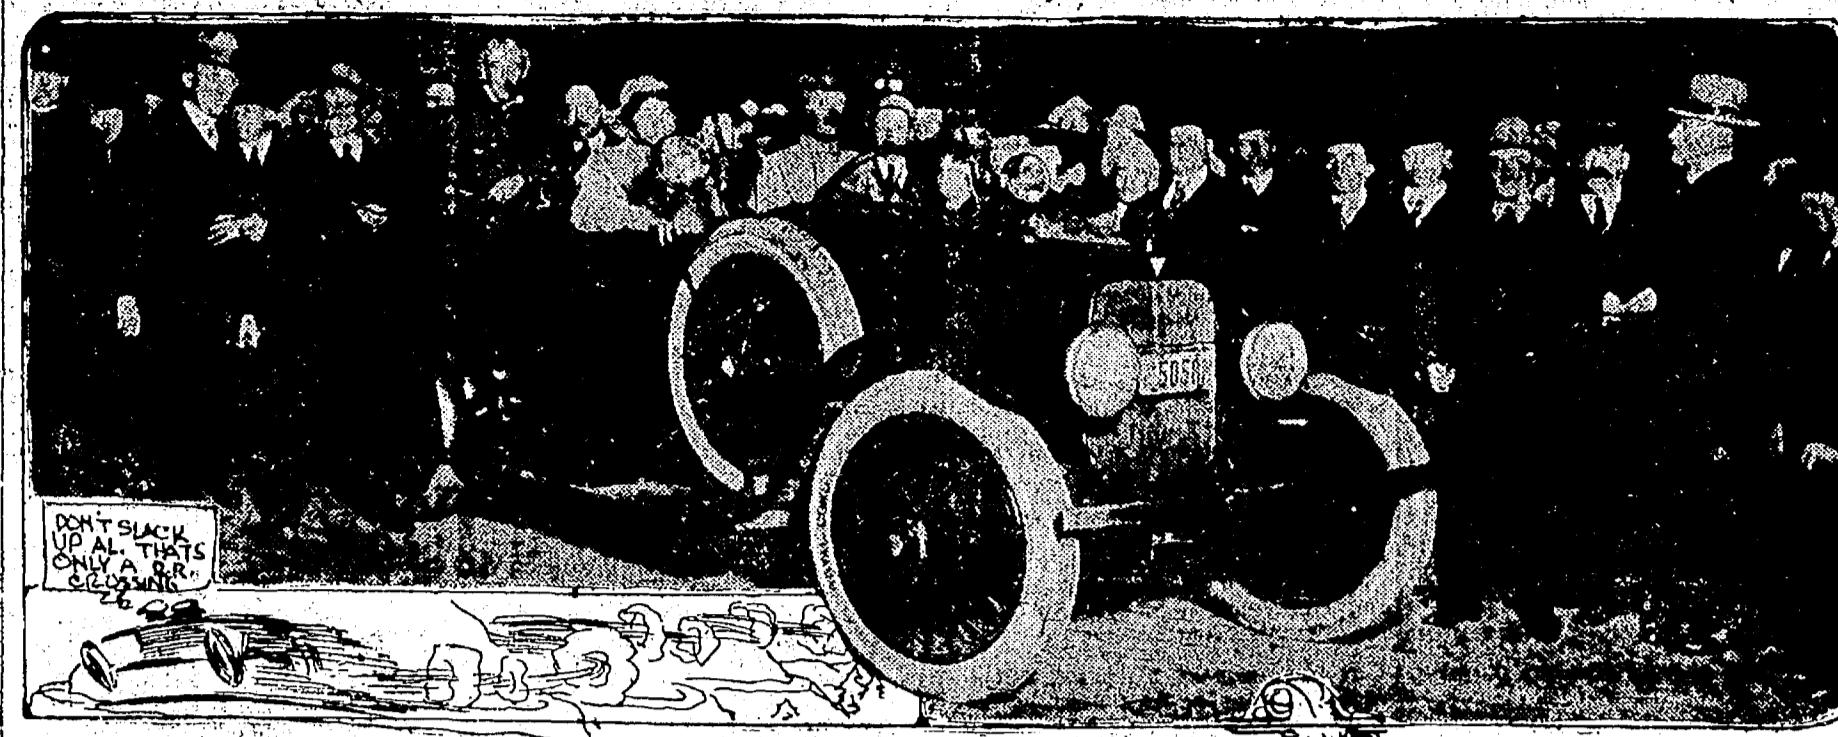

Miss Heath is busy investigating bread prices for the past three weeks.

"From the figures presented and from my investigation it would seem that perhaps an increase is justified but we want to be shown and we want to bring about some remedy which will lessen the burden on both the industry and the consumer," she declared.

Big bakers today presented figures to show that either a higher price or a smaller loaf is inevitable.

"Coal has gone up more than 30 per cent, the baker's state paper for wrapping bread has gone up, Master bakers throughout the country have been instrumental in seeking an inquiry, according to Mrs. Heath and hope that it may suggest a solution for the problem.

Coast-to-Coast Auto Record Is Smashed Hudson Super Six Cuts Mark 15 Hours

The Hudson Super-Six checking out in San Francisco for its dash across the continent. A. H. Patterson, who piloted the car on the first relay of the journey, is shown at the wheel. When this car reached New York yesterday it had covered the 3476-mile journey in the record time of five days, three hours and thirty-one minutes.

By EDMUND CRINNION.

Bettering by a substantial margin all previous records and setting a new mark of 5 days, 3 hours, 31 minutes for the journey by motor across the American continent a Hudson Super Six car arrived in New York yesterday afternoon after having successfully terminated one of the most remarkable motor car flights in history, and thereby filling in a new page in the world's history of motor car achievements.

Across the Lincoln highway from San Francisco to New York—3476 miles in 5 days, 3 hours and 31 minutes, with an automobile, that's the mark of it!

Seems hardly possible when one considers the newness of the automobile in the general scheme of things. This remarkable victory of the Hudson car was a record-making event, yet all must grant that when it comes right down to cases this history-making dash across the continent is nothing more or less than an auto demonstration of the possibility of the motor car and we may well be in time to see this vehicle, so far as actual running time across the continent for autos under normal conditions. Although much must come in the line of developments before this goal is regular every day auto achievements is possible.

At the present time it is considered a remarkable demonstration of motor car durability and efficiency when it is conceded that none but a mechanically perfect automobile could attempt much less carry to a successful conclusion, such a strenuous journey over all sorts of road conditions for over 3400 miles, crossing two mountain ranges and meeting and overcoming all difficulties en route.

The time made by the history-making Hudson car as given out this morning in San Francisco, received from the East by THE TRIBUNE, lovers the best previous record over the same road by 14 hours and 60 minutes.

The previous record which was but recently made was also set by a high-grade car and at the time it was made most critics thought that the utmost in speed for a transcontinental auto dash had been achieved. Now comes the Hudson record, bettering the other by nearly 15 hours.

What the future will bring forth depends upon development of the motor car. What we can expect in the way of motor car development is hard to see; for the automobile designers in building such cars as the Hudson Six have demonstrated that they have attained a point where a motor car will stand terrific heating out all kinds of road conditions for 3476 miles for over five days without adjustments of any kind and arrive at its destination a perfect running machine. No railroad engine ever built was put to such a test across the continent.

When the big engines are put through a few hundred miles they are sent to the round house for inspection and oiling. In making transcontinental trips the railroad engine many times. Yet this same Hudson car, running on rough roads over humps and roads composed of sand, sometimes in mud, made the entire trip across the continent in almost as fast a time as the railway trains which run on smooth steel rails.

That is the real feature in this now-called marvelous trip. The stability of motor car construction.

What time this Hudson car could have made across the continent had it roads as smooth as the railroad beds to run on, can only be a matter of conjecture.

REMARKABLE RECORD.

This Hudson was checked out of San Francisco from Lotta's Fountain at exactly one minute after 12 on Wednesday morning, September 13, and, according to advice received from New York City this morning the car pulled up in Columbus Circle at 6:31 a. m., yesterday, September 18.

The record-breaker was piloted across the continent by a relay of three drivers, A. H. Patterson, the Hudson dealer at Stockton and holder of many California records, driving the car from this city to Elko, Nev.; L. Mulford, the daring racing pilot and one winner of the International Speedway race, being at the wheel from the Nevada town to Laramie, Wyo., where he turned it over to Patterson, the latter driving to Omaha, where Mulford again became pilot until South Bend was reached. Here C. H. Vincent, an engineer of the Hudson factory, was intrusted with the car.

CA. BEING LAST TRAIN.

Vincent was to have driven it to Buffalo, where Mulford was to have taken the wheel again and piloted the car to New York. Mulford's train was twenty minutes late in reaching Buffalo and the car proceeded without him. He continued on to Albany, thinking he would catch the express breaker; but here, too, he was too late and the express got off before the wheel again. Vincent, driving the entire last leg, a distance of 910 miles, without leaving the seat.

When the Hudson was checked out of San Francisco by C. H. Klefer, general manager of Wells Fargo & Co. in this city, and Leon J. Plinkson, the automobile editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, the speedometer registered zero, and when the car reached New York City and was inspected by a member of the American Automobile Association, the mileage recorded was 3476, making the average time for the cross-continent run 28.14 miles an hour.

ONE MISHAP IN IOWA.

There was but one accident on the trip and that was in Iowa. Mulford, in order to avoid death or limb, and the two men with him, drove head on into a herd of cattle that blocked a bridge. Two cows were killed. The impact damaged the radiator and lamps, and altogether kept the crew three hours at this place fixing up things. Other than this, the car reached New York in first-class shape.

W. J. S. Vincent, who made the record-breaking trip, had figured a schedule that requires 8 days and 3 hours for the car to cross the continent, but in statements made before he started East he firmly believed that this time would be materially bettered, and the result of the trip proves that what he was talking about.

EN ROUTE BY PATTERSON.

A. H. Patterson, who drove the car on the first leg of the journey, doubtless had the most difficult task of the trio of drivers. His path lay over the Sierra Nevada mountains and through the notorious sinks and bad roads in Nevada. Leaving here at 12:01 a. m. he had the car in Carson City at 7:23 a. m. and was at the Elko crossing station, 50 miles from San Francisco, at 8:49 p. m., several hours ahead of its schedule, and did not have a change, will tell of the results obtained by Oakland and Alameda county at these shows. Walker recently was in San Diego as a representative of the commission and also at Sacramento, Chico and later at Pleasanton and he is a firm believer in this form of exploitation for the industries and products of Oakland and Alameda county. President Harry G. Willard, of the exchange, also a member of the exposition commission, is to make a short talk.

MARSHALL HAS LUCID INTERVAL.

Vice-President Tom Marshall has delivered himself of many bizarre and inexplicable speeches since breaking into public life, but at Terre Haute, Indiana, a few days ago he appeared to have had a lucid interval, during which he gave expression to some sane thoughts that have been in the minds of the American people for some time. Being in his home State he spoke right out in meeting, declaring that he would resign rather than take up the reins of government should he, by reason of a vacancy, be called to the high office of President. As the nominee for vice-president of one of the great political parties he frankly declared that he did not have the patience, disposition or intellect to dispose of questions likely to come before the chief executive for solution.

While it is admitted that he is not likely to again be called upon to decide such questions as come before one occupying what some people wrongly regard as the innocuous station of vice-president, it must nevertheless be rather humiliating to members of the party at present dominant in the nation to contemplate that they have named for vice-president a man who, either in a burst of self-abnegation or just recovering from the first sudden shock of the news from Maine, naively admits a fact recognized by every public man in Washington since March 4, 1913, when the son of Indiana was inducted into office.

Standing before the august Senate on that memorable occasion, following the administration of the oath of office, he let fall some oratorical gems that are classics in their line. Resurrected from the Congressional Record where embalmed, the effusion reads today as it sounded then. Staid Senators on both sides of the chamber looked at one another in astonishment, and well they might. Only the most brilliant sentences are quoted, owing to the high price and scarcity of news print paper. Comparing the Senate to blinders on a horse, the new presiding officer gave vent to the following:

To my mind, government is the harness with which a people draws its load of civilization. If the harness is properly adjusted the load, though heavy, will be drawn with ease and no part of the people will be galled. The Senate is the blinders, intended to keep the people from shying at imaginary dangers and toppling into the ditch our system of government. So long as the blinders serve this purpose they are a most valuable part of the harness, but if they do not serve this purpose they should either be spread or done away with entirely. I am one of those who think what we can do to adjust our blinders as to meet new conditions.

Before the astonished Senators could regain their mental equilibrium after being compared to the blinders on a horse drawing the load of government, the versatile Indianan suddenly digressed and discussed the divorcing of a neighbor's wife "before taking her unto himself." This is how he brought in the neighbor's wife:

Unfortunately there is no fixed standard of honor outside the dictionary. The gambler may hold it to consist in paying his gambling debts, the member of the smart set in divorcing his neighbor's wife before taking her unto himself, the Senator in eliminating personalities.

Will the American people be encouraged to vote for a vice-presidential candidate who feels this way as to a succession that is not impossible, as history has too often demonstrated?

One of the most fortunate of authors is Theodore Dreiser—that is, that is his good fortune to be measured by the sale of his books. There is a strain in "The Genius" that got on the nerves of the New York critics, and the story was banned. Having been issued by a reputable publishing house, the effort was made to recall all the volumes that had been placed on sale. This has not been successful to the extent of absolutely suppressing the work, but it has had the effect of arousing that interest that always responds to a prospect of something salacious. This book, however, is not worse than the many others which have got past, though this is not to be taken as any defense of that sort of reading.

Already the prediction of Japanese commercial ascendancy on the seas is being realized. A decline in trans-Pacific freight rates is reported.

It is declared that this is due to a slackening of business, but more likely it is due to the entering upon the scene of some of the tonnage that has been building, and of a Japanese movement to meet the consequent slump. It may be a premonition of what is to happen when, the war being over and all the tonnage now interned, together with all that has been requisitioned for war purposes, and all that is building is cast off, and goes searching for cargo. In the great overplus of ships that seems certain, however, we may expect our Japanese friends to hold their own with their subsidized system and their doile sailors.

KIND WORDS FOR MARE ISLAND.

Congressman Charles F. Curry, who returned from Washington recently, speaks encouragingly of the situation as regards the Mare Island Navy Yard. The California yard has been "knocked" so persistently by its enemies that it is refreshing to learn from one who has just returned from the seat of government that conditions are satisfactory and the future so promising.

"Mare Island is now through with its troubles and is a first-class yard," declares Curry. "The channel is adequate and can maintain itself with less dredging than most of the navy yard channels in the United States."

Answering the charge so frequently made on the floor of Congress and elsewhere that it costs vast sums to maintain a sufficient depth in the channel to make the yard accessible, Curry cites an instance where the government is compelled to go so far as to appropriate for dredging in order to float out ships at a private yard, the last river and harbor bill containing an appropriation of $200,000 for dredging the Fore river leading up to the Fore River Shipbuilding plant. Between $20,000 and $40,000 will be required annually to keep that channel open, he claims.

Referring to the battleship to be constructed at the California government yard the representative from the Third District speaks most enthusiastically:

"The California battleship to be built at Mare Island will be one of the finest vessels any nation ever built. I am making the boast that the men at Mare Island will construct the best fighting machine the nation ever had for less money and in quicker time than it will take to finish the sister ship building in another yard."

JOKER IN CHILD LABOR BILL.

Believing that the welfare of the child vitally concerns the future of the nation, The TRIBUNE, with many other papers, expressed the keenest satisfaction at the final passage of the Child Labor Bill which met such strenuous opposition in Congress from many southern representatives.

It is somewhat of a shock therefore to learn that the measure as finally amended in the Senate is largely a fake—another case of molasses to catch flies.

The statute forbids the shipment out of a State of the product of a cannery, mill or factory "in which, within thirty days prior to the removal of such product," children have been employed or permitted to work. In other words, the canner, mill operator or manufacturer can hold his product of child labor for thirty days and then ship it where he pleases, according to the interpretation of friends of the measure who have been studying the act. As the bill left the House of Representatives it really contained effective provisions, but it was in the Senate that the thirty-day provision was inserted.

It is sincerely to be hoped that other provisions of the bill will, to some extent at least, relieve a condition that exists in many States, to the disgrace and humiliation of the nation.

The death of Horace White is noted in the despatches. To the present generation he did not figure prominently; but in a former day he was one of the eminent journalists of the nation. His pen during the dark days of the civil war was a power. He was the intimate friend of Lincoln. For ten years from 1864 till 1874 he was the editor of the Chicago Tribune. That was in the later days of the war and in the tremendously expanding time immediately following. Horace White was a great force in moulding public opinion. For more than thirty years he had been connected with the New York Post, an able journal, to whose columns he imparted much of that literary and independent tone for which it is noted.

The question is whether the new edict of the barbers—fifty cents for cutting hair—is likely to work a change in styles of wearing it. Many will remember fashions wherein it was allowed to grow much longer than the present mode. There was the long-hair era of sixty years ago, largely affected in the south, where the locks were permitted to dangle on the collar, with a curve-in at the bottom. Who of middle age does not remember a style wherein there were two partings, the tuft between being combed up to an apex and there turned over in a reef? And who does not remember the style where the hair was parted at the back of the head and then combed forward in a graceful curve in front of the ears? Is the boom in price likely to cause a renaissance?

NOTES and COMMENT

A San Francisco burglar took a stove, lounge, bed, table, chairs and bicycle. He is still short of the record, however. The stove was cold.

A doctor has warned the world not to eat raw clams. Didn't know that anybody had to be warned that way. A raw clam is not an universally inviting titbit.

Personal item from the Gold Hill News: "Mrs. Jim Dinkins is home again at the ranch but planning to take her granddaughter, Beth, and go back to the valley to be nearer school for the winter months."

One thousand Elks averaged fifty oysters apiece at their annual "bus" last Sunday. There are probably those to whom fifty oysters are a good many. But there must be others able to get beyond that mark.

The San Bernardino News affords a good illustration of how distance lends enchantment. Stitt Wilson is down there, a good ways from home, and gets referred to as "one of California's foremost orators."

If Villa is dead his name still goes marching on in the despatches and enterprises attributed to him get much more publicity than more worthy doings of worthier personages about whose presence in the land of the living there is no doubt.

There is quite a trace of truth in this, from the Santa Ana Blade: "The individual who always is kicking because the home papers do not print all the news is the first man to rush to the office and make an effort to keep it out of print if it is something that concerns his own family."

Kalogeropolis, the new Greek premier, declares that the new administration "will observe the most benevolent neutrality toward the entente." Those Greeks certainly are winning the medals as equilibrists. They have perched upon the fence for two years steady.

This is about the first item that has lately appeared that detailed any Mexican news other than fighting and marauding. It is from the Holtville Tribune: "The first cotton ginned in Mexico came across the line Thursday. About thirty bales in all have been ginned and brought to this side so far this year."

The editor gets the meat and returns thanks to the donor, who got it direct from the hunter, all of which the Rio Vista River News explains: "We extend our thanks to H. B. Holmes for a fine piece of venison. It was part of a large buck sent him by John B. Nevin of Ukiah, a former Rio Vista boy."

"Thank God for Wilson; he has kept us out of war," reads the Democratic text book. It should be put that he hasn't quite succeeded in getting us into war, but he has succeeded in getting the country in such attitude with all the nations that upon their emergence from the war they are likely to "have it in" for us."

Philadelphia has a bridge proposition. They are discussing the advisability of building a structure between that city and Camden. The Telegraph seems to have tired of it already, and says that while talk is necessary along some lines of endeavor, in bridge building the sooner it is stopped and a concrete mixer started the better.

The boycott has been applied to many things that one class of people do and of which another disapproves, but the effort of a humane society to bar from exhibition dogs that have had their ears cropped is a new one. As it aims at a rather unnecessary and somewhat cruel practice the boycott in this instance may not take on the un-American tinge that it generally does.

The parties to this fracas, described by the Sacramento News, were all bloody and unpronounceable: "When Greek meets Greek, some body gets hurt. At least that was the result last night when Luciferous Konsoulas beat up Nicolas Sodropoulos and was arrested by a warrant sworn to by Epanimondas Kollas. Sodropoulos was so badly battered that he had to be taken to the County hospital."

The Stockton Independent holds forth on blackbird pie: "Why so few good blackbird pies should be served in this locality when there are so many good blackbirds is puzzling a good many farmers who have been annoyed by their presence. All through the districts where Egyptian corn and milo maize grow, the stalks are blackened with the winged robbers, who feast on the crop. In the hemp fields of the Ridge Land and Navigation company the same thing may be seen."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The collier Nanshan struck a submerged pile while landing at California City, injuring the propeller blades. It will probably have to come back here to be docked.—Vallejo Times.

Mrs. Mary Gale has filed complaint against her husband for assault. The only particulars of the case reported are that her husband had taken her purse and attempted to take the cream check which Mrs. Gale says is her property.—Holtville Tribune.

After a battle lasting forty-five minutes Fred Reed of Oklahoma landed the season's tuna, a beautiful specimen weighing 90 pounds. The day previous Mr. Reed and Mr. Earcliffe threw a life-preserved to a swordfish and had considerable difficulty to themselves watching a 365-pound fish fight a life-preserved. Meanwhile, the anglers smoked leisurely and two hours later the swordfish was gaffed.—Avalon Islander.

WILSON MACHINE GUN.

Will Rogers, the expert rope twirler has a new joke. He says that a sailor has seen running through the Portsmouth Navy Yard with a typewriter under his arm. "Halt," shouted a petty officer, "what have you got there?" "A Wilson machine gun," quickly replied the Jackie. He was allowed to proceed.

MARK TWAIN'S PHILOSOPHY

In the chapters of the posthumous

Mark Twain romance appearing in Harper's Magazine for September, the great humorist's philosophy of life is revealed through one of his characters.

"The Mysterious Stranger," talking with one of the boys whom he has suddenly transported with him to China, says:

"Among you boys you have a game;

you stand a row of bricks on end, a few inches apart; you push a brick, it knocks over the next brick—and so on till all the row is prostrate. That is human life,

A child's first act knocks over the initial brick, and the rest will follow inexorably.

If you could see into the future, as I have, you would see everything that was going to happen to that creature; for nothing can change the order of life after the first event has determined it. That is nothing will change it, because each act

unfailingly begets an act, that begets another, and so on to the end, and the end see just when each act is to be born, from cradle to grave."

"Does God order the career?"

"Foreordain it? No. The man's circumstance and environment order it.

His first act determines the second and all that follow after. But suppose, for argument's sake, that the man should skip one of these acts; an apparently trifling one, for instance; suppose that it had been appointed that on a certain day, at a certain hour and minute, and second and fraction of a second he should go to the well, and he didn't go. That man's career would change utterly, from that moment; thence to the grave it would be very different from the career he would have had if he had gone to the well.

"As I say, if he had gone to the well, he would have wholly changed his life. I have examined his billion of possible careers, and in only one of them occurs the discovery of America. You people do not suspect that all of your acts are of one size and importance, but it is true; to snatch at an appointed fly is as big with fate for you as in any other appointed act."

"As the conquering of a continent, for instance?"

"Yes. Now then, no man ever does drop a link—the thing has never happened! Even when he is trying to make up his mind as to whether he will do a thing or not, that itself is a link, and it has its proper place in his chain;

and when he finally decides an act, that

Second Mysterious Blaze in Leona Apartments Located in Time to Save the Lives of Those Endangered by Flames

Police and Fire Departments Combine to Investigate the Cause of Fire Which May Have Had Incendiary Origin

ALAMEDA, Sept. 19.—Their lives endangered by a second mysterious fire which threatened to destroy the three-story building, a score of occupants of the Leona apartments took refuge in the street at two o'clock this morning after they had been awakened by Lynn Goers, an employee of the Southern Pacific Company, when went from room to room arousing the sleepers. Shivering in their night attire in the fog, clothed, the women and men stood about wrapped in blankets and rugs while the fire department extinguished the blaze.

Mrs. Carrie Goers was the first to be aroused by the smell of smoke. She awakened her son, Lynn, who promptly went through the house and roused out the sleepers. An alarm was turned on from the Albert Wyber grocery, while W. H. Hoffman, proprietor of the apartments, fought the blaze with buckets of water.

STARTS NEAR STARWAY
The fire started inside the stairs leading to the upper stories. A partially burned baby's buggy cushion, placed against the side of the starway and against a small door leading to a closet under the stairs were partly burned and a hole had been burned through the floor. The shoddy filling in the burlap cushion caused a dense smoke, which filled the entire building.

Among the occupants of the building were W. H. Hoffman, the proprietor; Mrs. Ida J. Bradley, Mrs. Carrie Goers and her son and niece, Albert Wyber, a grocer at Pacific and Park, and two aged men. There were other lodgers at the Leona.

There was a fire at the Leona last Saturday and the circumstances were regarded as so mysterious that the fire was reported to the police by Acting Fire Chief Frank Millington. At that time burning papers were found.

ASSISTS FIRE DEPARTMENT

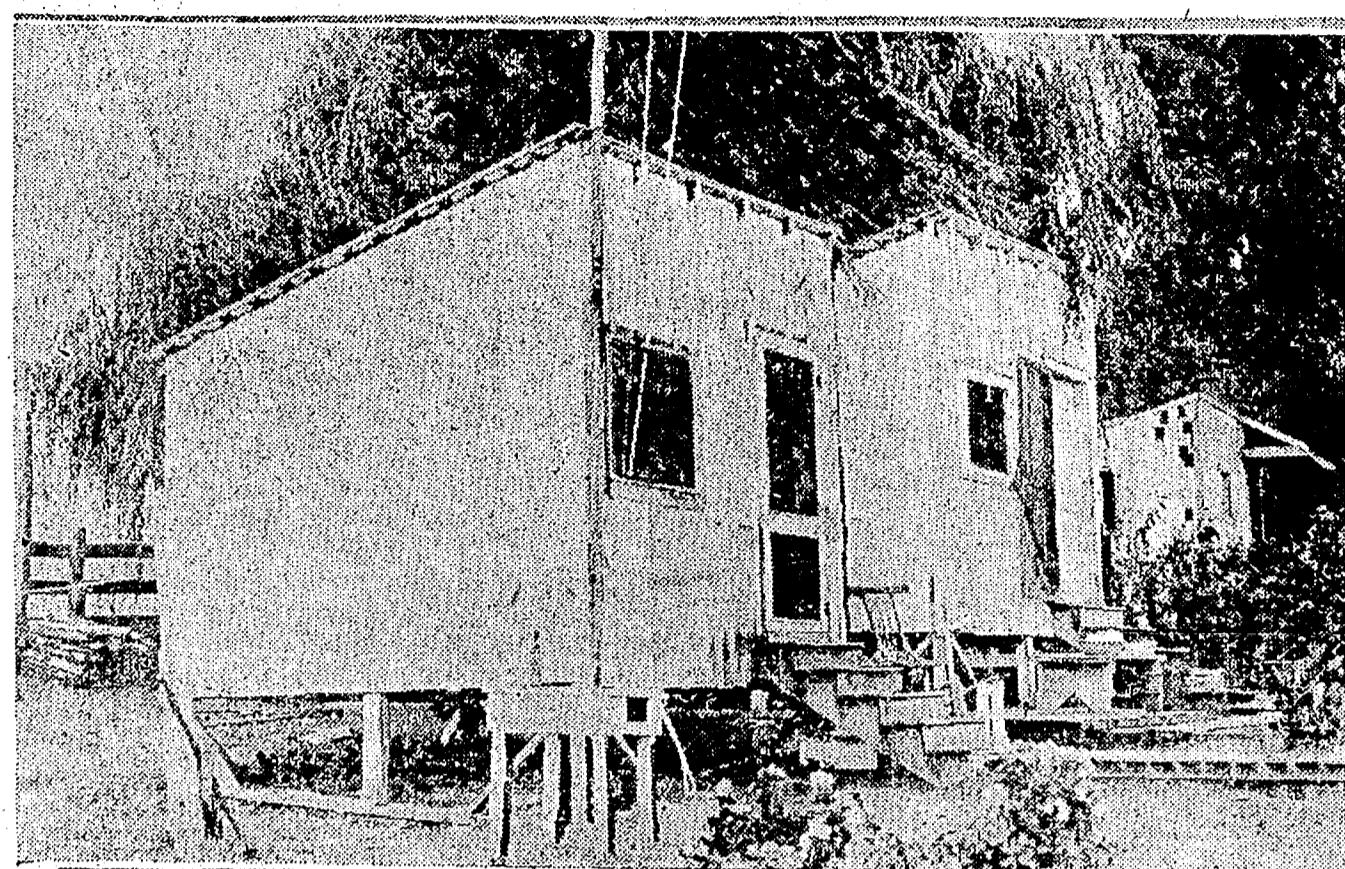

The building is owned by H. A. Charles of Ashby avenue, Berkeley. Charles came to Alameda today and is assisting the police and fire department investigation.

The Leona is at No. 1641-43-45 Park street, north of Pacific avenue.

Another mysterious fire, also of incendiary origin, was discovered following the Leona fire, in vacant premises near the northwest corner of Lincoln avenue and Park street, in the Japanese and Chinese quarter. The fire was in the rear of a store adjoining a Chinese restaurant. Goe, the restaurant owner, was aroused by the Leona fire excitement and suddenly saw a fire burning within feet of where he had been sleeping. He put out the fire and reported it to the fire chief.

ROBES, FIRE DEPARTMENT

San Francisco, Sept. 19.—William H. Lloyd was only charged with omitting to provide for a minor child when he appeared in the police court this morning, but before he left his troubles were three varieties and he was charged with three offenses against the law. As he sat in the courtroom he was identified as a man for whom the police were looking, drawing a check on a bank in which he had no funds. Soon after he lit a cigar and came under the wrathful eye of the magistrate. Then he took a seat in the dock. He had asked a wad if he might smoke, and the other, anxious for fireworks, had said, "Sure, go ahead."

Three Boys Are Kept Within Hillside Enclosure, Which Lacks Necessary Accommodations; New Cottage to Be Built Will Improve Conditions, but Will Not Prove Permanent Solution to Difficulty

(This is the fourth article of a series on the shame of Alameda county—the infirmary. The series deals with conditions as they exist today, and as they have existed for many years. The first article described a wretched, sweltering tent in which a smallpox patient is being kept; the second the mingling of maternity cases with chronic sufferers and feeble-minded in one ward; the third the violation of the State tenement act in the housing of indigents by the county. Today's is devoted to the conditions at the leper camp. The barracks ward, the dormitory for aged women, the tuberculosis colony, the general management of the institution will be dealt with. The articles will attack no one; but they will assail a condition that must be remedied before disgrace is converted into a pitiful tragedy).

that gloomy picture entitled the Shame of Alameda County.

HUTS ARE PROVIDED.

There are two brothers, nine and twelve years old. There is another young man about twenty-one years old. They live in two shacks resembling chicken sheds, separated from the remainder of the infirmary grounds by a wire-net fence.

When I visited this wretched group of buildings last week, the regulation had not been made for lumber for a new cottage. Dr. Wills, superintendent of the infirmary, said he had asked for it. But he had been asking for it for several years.

The two shacks are about eight by ten feet in floor area, and are set upon stilts. The walls are of one board thickness, battened. They are old and there are some cracks in the boards. The windows are small. The floor is one-inch board, and as the space beneath the floor is not enclosed, the wind in winter blows all around this miserable cubicle.

Only essential furniture is contained in these cabins—bed, a table, some hooks and nails in the wall for clothes.

In one, the two small boys live and sleep. The other is occupied by the young man.

The three lepers are cared for by an aged man who has a cabin within the

GYPSY GIRL
FIGHT GOES INTO COURT

Fate of Romany Woman "Sold" to Be Married to Son of Family Will Be Determined by Judge Ogden Tomorrow

Parents Say Daughter Has Been Held Here Against Her Will; Release On a Writ of Habeas Corpus Is Obtained

An automobile siege has been leveled against the Detention Home in West Oakland where pretty 16-year-old Amella Mitchel, over whose custody two gypsy bands are quarreling, is being held. Superior Judge F. B. Ogden will decide tomorrow as to whether she shall be returned to her father, Alexander Mitchel, or remain with Mark Adams, whose minor son, George, hopes to marry her when she attains majority.

Habens corpus proceedings have been invoked by the Adams clan to obtain custody of the girl. Pending the hearing in court both sides are keeping a close watch over the Detention Home fearing that through some manner the girl will be spirited away.

LOANED GIRL TO TRIBE.

For two years Alexander Mitchel has been searching for his daughter, according to the story related to Probation Officer O. F. Snediger. She was "loaned" to the Adamses, the father said, to nurse one of the Adams tribe and was later kidnapped, he alleged.

Adams claim that they bought the girl for $2500 as a wife for George Adams. She has been living in the Adams camp at Third and Jones streets.

It was at this camp that emissaries of the Mitchel tribe located her several days ago after a country-wide search. The Adamses refused to give her up. The Mitchels complained to the authorities and the girl was taken into custody, with the result that habeas corpus proceedings were commenced by Adams to recover possession of her.

WANTS TO MARRY ADAMS.

The case depends upon whether the girl is of age, it being the claim of Adams that she is eighteen and of Mitchel that she is only sixteen years of age.

The pretty gypsy girl has expressed a desire to remain with her youthful fiance and to be married to him. If she is of age she will probably be allowed to remain in the care of the elder Adams.

The contest over possession of her promises to result in a lively hearing tomorrow, neither side having shown a disposition to give in to the other.

NOTED ARTIST HERE.

Rodney Thomson, famous cartoonist and former Californian, arrived in Oakland today for a brief visit from New York. Thomson is in California to visit his mother at Ben Lomond, and also revisited old haunts in Oakland while on his western trip. Beginning his career here, he went to New York where he was cartoonist on the New York Sun and other journals, including Collier's. He is one of America's best-known artists today. Thomson leaves for New York on the 26th.

GETS YEAR SENTENCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Frank Miller, captain by Captain Gleeson's gun-shoe squad, starting a sit-down in front of the Olympic Club, and whose room contained $1000 in auto parts, was given a year in the county jail today by Police Judge Fitzpatrick.

As the trial police officers testified that they looked through a hole in the door and saw the money transaction, Peterson was victorious in establishing his innocence of the charge, and later filed a suit for perjury against Grace Miller.

RICHMOND

Pastor, Center of Big Bribery Scandal, and Acquitted on Woman's Charges, Is Transferred Over Many Protests

Action of Conference May Be a Warning to Avoid Publicity in Future; Placererville Pulpit to Be Scene of Minister's Work

RICHMOND, Sept. 19.—With absolutely no reference to the bribery charges which were brought recently by Grace Miller, proprietress of a Richmond resort, or to subsequent perjury suit which was filed by the minister against his accuser, the Methodist Conference has removed Rev. Peter E. Petersen, pastor of the First Methodist church of this city to Placererville. The minister's reassignment, in his pastorate here was earnestly sought by the congregation, a unanimous vote to that effect having been recorded.

Rev. Gillette will take Rev. Petersen's place as pastor of the First Methodist church. Rev. Frank Linder, pastor of Wesley Methodist church, was returned to this field by the conference.

Just what part the publicity surrounding Rev. Petersen in his campaign against the roadhouses and resorts played in the decision of the conference is not known. The pastor's friends are inclined to believe that the removal order is a silent admonition for the minister to leave the field.

Petersen was arrested on the evening of June 16 just after Grace Miller had called upon him in his study at the church. She claimed that she offered him, and that he accepted, $70 in currency. If he would stop his attempts to have her resort closed, Petersen denied that he touched the money, and characterized the incident as a "frame up." The arrest followed so closely after the departure of the woman that it was evident that the police had been advised of the call and were awaiting that.

They also looked through a hole in the door and saw the money transaction. Peterson was victorious in establishing his innocence of the charge, and later filed a suit for perjury against Grace Miller.

enclosed space. Three times a day he goes down to the infirmary kitchen and brings back food for the trio. He has them hose out their huts several times a week, and he washes their clothes and bedding within the enclosed space.

Dr. Wills readily admitted that the huts are an eyesore to him and unfit for human habitation. He said:

"As soon as I can have the new cottage erected, I will burn these down. That is all that can be done with them. They are unfit for anything but the flames. I could not ask any workman to go in there and tear them down. They must be burned."

The boys live out doors most of the time, and that is best for them. But they should have better quarters than this. We will soon have a new building."

I may attempt to have the shack pulled over away from the willow tree. It would be a shame to destroy the tree in burning the huts down.

BANDAGES LEFT AROUND.
There were some stained bandages, which had been removed from the lesions in the arms of the boys, lying on the ground, with some flies crawling over them. The caretaker had been playing checkers with one of the boys on an upturned box between his cottage and the leper huts. He saw the direction of my gaze toward the used bandages. He hastened to explain:

"I was going to bury them. I usually bury them right away. But the boys wanted to be told how to play. I was teaching them. But they are not doing any harm there. I will bury them immediately."

He hastened to show me whatever could be presented to the credit of the place. There was a bathtub in a room adjoining his cottage, and next to it a toilet. But a stream of water could be seen running away from under this lavatory, and there was a piece of broken sewer pipe nearby.

TOILET NOT IN USE.
"Is the sewer broken?" I asked.

"Yes," answered Dr. Wills. "But we are going to have it repaired."

"How long has it been broken?"

"On a long time. I don't know just how long," answered the doctor.

"Then is there a cesspool with which this toilet connects?"

"No, the toilet is not used."

An explanation seemed necessary. "It is no worse than on many farms," he said, "or construction camps. There is nothing insanitary about it for the time being. And we are going to have the sewer repaired."

The subject was dropped. I asked whether there had been any trouble keeping the boys within bounds. It was admitted that they left the enclosure and wandered over the hill-side. Recently one of the boys ran away and got as far as the home of his parents in Pleasanton.

BOY GOT LONESOME.

"He got lonesome out here with nobody he knew," explained Dr. Wills. "We could not make him understand at first that he could not go home and be with his mother and the children. Now he understands better what is expected of him."

"Don't you?" he asked, turning to one of the boys.

The boy nodded sadly. It does not seem particularly strange that a boy of nine or twelve should find it difficult to understand that he must live in a hut out on a hillside, away from home and his mother and the other children, away from the comforts of home. To run away seemed the natural thing to do.

It was not strange that a small boy would find it difficult to understand that for the protection of his mother and brothers and sisters he must be kept away from them. I was soon to learn that his father had failed to learn the same lesson.

"The fence does not seem to amount to much," I hazarded. It was of wire netting. A child could kick it down. The old caretaker chimed in. He said:

"No, it's not good. Last week the boys' father brought the other children out to play with these boys. I told him he could not bring them in and that the children must not touch each other."

I closed the gate and told him to keep out.

But he said they were his boys, and nobody had a right to keep him away from them. He climbed over the gate and opened it from the inside and brought the children in. I could not stop him. He has been here several times.

"That must be stopped," declared Dr. Wills. "That must not be allowed again."

HOME OF HOPELESSNESS.

The leper camp has been at the infirmary for many years. At one time there were as many as six confined there. In the hut adjoining that occupied by the boys they imprisoned a Chinese leper. The next morning they found him hanging from one of the beams in the hut. It is a place of gawesome associations. The disease is incurable, and there is no hope in the lives of these youngsters.

There is not much that can be done for them. Some religious people visit them Sundays, and teach them a little. They have a blackboard out in the yard, and on this were scrawled the religious phrases.

But because there is no hope is not a reason for shoving them off in a corner in miserable huts and ignoring their existence. And this is what has been done. In the winter there was no place for them to find shelter during the day but in their bedroom shacks.

NEW COTTAGE BETTER.
The old caretaker appears to be a kindly man who is helping the boys according to his best lights. He has raised flowers and vegetables within the little enclosure. The boys help him when they wish to, and with his guidance, and it gives them something to do, some interest in life.

The new cottage, Dr. Wills tells me, will have three rooms: one for the two boys, one for the young man, and a common living room. It does not as they exist.

NEW UNIT TO BE ADDED TO GUARD

Coast Artillery Regiment Ready to Be Mustered Into Service.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19.—Tomorrow afternoon the armed forces of California will be strengthened by one regiment of coast artillery, when United States army officers commence mustering in nine companies recruited by Major H. B. Light, formerly of the Seventh regiment, California National Guard.

The mustering will take place at the Exposition park armory. Lieutenant Colonel Herbert Fay, U. S. A., and a staff of regular officers will have charge of the mustering. The force will be one of the first units in the United States to come under the new federal reserve act. It will not be affiliated with the National Guard.

Sodality and Club to Join in Aid of Church

A vaudeville program, followed by dancing, will be featured tonight by the Lesdail club and the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Anthony's parish at St. Anthony's hall. Sixteenth street and Sixteenth avenue. A "School Days" sketch will be one feature of the show, with fifteen young men and women taking the comic roles of the educational bureaus. Another sketch, entitled "Three Friends," is to be given by three clever comedians, R. Harding, Dooley and J. McKenna.

Those taking part in the school sketch are: Prof. Schultz, G. Brusher; Isadore Murphy, J. Cordozia; Susie Stout, Catherine Shannon; Claire Caramel, Gertrude Altman; She Slockum, W. Knapp; Betsy Creampuff; Catherine Maloney; Sharkey C'Brien, A. Oakes; Ida Wanta, Mary Harris; Grace Darling, A. Cavanaugh; Sadie Little, Ethel Schmidt; George Bush, W. The St. Anthony's Hawaiian Quintet will give a few selections, while Miss M. Brusher and Miss E. Dooley will round out the musical portion of the program with vocal solos. Dancing will follow the vaudeville bill, the music to be furnished by St. Mary's orchestra.

To Raise Fund for Fine Arts Palace

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Work of raising a $5,000,000 fund for the establishment of the fine arts palace at the exposition grounds as a free art museum will start in a few days. This has been decided by the directors of the San Francisco Art Association, after studying the interest local people have taken in the display now shown, as judged by their attendance.

Satisfied that such an institution has become a necessity, the art association has decided that the present location is not the best. The consent of private owners to sell their property on the site has been secured. The place is to maintain the building, with the jagged lot faces in its present condition and maintain an art institution that will in time win the establishment of national fame.

The board of directors of the San Francisco Art Association decided yesterday to complete the legal details of the transfer of the Exposition Palace of Fine Arts to the association as quickly as possible, and to initiate the campaign.

ACCOMMODATIONS BAD.

We urge the establishment of a leper colony upon some island and the isolation at this point of all lepers being maintained in various county institutions.

There are no suitable accommodations at the Alameda County Infirmary, although lepers have long been confined here, and one recently escaped.

The report was signed by Adolph Uhl, Dr. H. G. Thomas, Dr. Samuel H. Bateau, R. J. Tyson, Irving H. Kahn, P. J. Walker and L. C. Morehouse. Conditions have not improved since the report was made more than four years ago.

There are only three leper homes in the United States, two maintained by state governments and one by the City and County of San Francisco; none by the federal government. There are also three maintained by the insular governments of Hawaii, the Philippines and Porto Rico.

PROBLEM OF COMMUNITY.

In considering the entire county infirmary problem, which is indeed many problems rolled into one, this question of leprosy must be faced. The new little cottage, to be built at a cost of perhaps $125, does not meet the problem. It merely temporizes. There is no proper isolation possible under the conditions that obtain today, and a new cottage will not change that.

No individual is to blame for the condition. It is a community problem, and there would be no wisdom in criticizing any one person, or group of persons. The responsibility rests upon all of us to realize what the situation is, and to assume some of the responsibility of working out its solution. But the first need is to know the conditions as they exist.

BERG FREED OF MURDER CHARGE

Man Who Shot Striker Is Acquitted by Jury in the Superior Court.

After thirty minutes deliberation a jury in the trial of Ralph Berg, who was charged with the murder of Louis A. Morey of Alameda on June 17 during the labor troubles at the Sunset Lumber Company yards, acquitted him in Judge Ogden's court. The case had been on trial for two weeks and was hard fought by both sides.

Attorneys Lin S. Church and Charles W. Snod represented the defendant and Assistant District Attorney James M. Koford and Deputy Oliver Hamlin appeared for the people.

Berg, who was employed by the company after the union men had walked out, was riding in a motor truck from Seventh street over Oak street to the yards, when at Fourth street a crowd of sympathizers and strikers had gathered to hoot at the strikebreakers. Brickbats were thrown and there was a general confusion during which Berg, who had been handed a revolver, fired three times indiscriminately into the crowd. Young Morey was struck by one of the bullets and he died immediately. Berg was later arrested in the lumber yards where he was hiding.

FACTORY MEN START ON TRADE TRIP SPECIAL TRAIN BEARS OAKLANDERS

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE JUNKETERS AS THEY STARTED THIS MORNING ON JOURNEY SOUTH.

Manufacturers to Cement Friendship With Valley; Boys' Band Will Be With the Party

More than 100 Oakland boosters left the First and Broadway station this morning at 7:45 o'clock for San Joaquin valley points, where members of the Manufacturers' Committee, Chamber of Commerce, will try their hands at beginning and cementing friendships with the interior cities. Included in the party was the Oakland Technical High School band, forty strong. A special train of three cars and an observation-buffet vehicle carried the business men and party, but before all aboard could be seated, a TRIBUNE photographer attempted a fog-photograph of the excursion. A large blue banner, with "My City Oakland" in white letters on it, was tacked to the train.

The itinerary includes Patterson, Los Banos, Modesto, Fresno, Madera, Turlock and Stockton. Extensive entertainment is planned at the cities to be visited. The party will stop tonight in Fresno and tomorrow will make the northern swing of the valley, ending the excursion proper at Stockton where a dinner will be given. At Modesto the party will stop for a longer time than usual, it being Alameda county day at the Stanislaus exposition. Following the Stockton dinner the return will be made to Oakland late tomorrow evening.

Much entertainment of the informal nature is planned en route, and a mock trial, which will include W. H. Seeley as "constable," Max Horwinski as prosecuting attorney and Walter Baker as Chinese interpreter, should create surprises and laughter.

In every town visited the school band will render selections.

The members of the Manufacturers' Committee believe that such trips will do more to stimulate trade between the interior cities and Oakland than many months of correspondence and publicity. By seeing the cities with which Oakland is trading it is expected that members of the party will have a far better idea of requirements and demands in them through personal contact with business men.

A revised estimate of the loss of property and products is $200,000. An investigation is being made of a fire which destroyed the St. Thomas Dehydration Company's plant at St. Thomas Saturday night. The loss was about $50,000.
